IVUN's website contains information about home mechanical ventilation ... including past issues of Ventilator-Assisted Living, our online Resource Directory for Ventilator-Assisted Living, IVUN's Ventilatory Equipment Exchange, a continually updated calendar of home mechanical ventilation meetings throughout the world, information about The Research Fund, and much more.

Ventilator-Assisted Living ISSN 1066-534X

IVUN's 8-page bi-monthly newsletter (sent electronically) includes current information about home mechanical ventilation for ventilator users, their families and health professionals worldwide.

www.ventusers.org/edu/valnews/

Available with membership. Published in February, April, June, August, October and December. Past issues are offered by single issue or complete set (www.ventusers.org/edu/valnews/date1.html).

Information about Ventilator-Assisted Living

IVUN's 16-page brochure (©2005) is an introduction to mechanical/assisted ventilation: what is it? who uses it? what types of ventilators? what types of interfaces? and more.

www.ventusers.org/edu/vabout1.html

Contact IVUN for bulk pricing. One copy free upon request.

Home Ventilator Guide

Comprehensive online resource (pdf format) about the technical aspects of the home ventilators on the market. Specifications include weight and size, modes, breath rates, triggers, alarms, internal and external batteries for bilevel units, volume ventilators, pressure support/control ventilators, and combination ventilators.

www.ventusers.org/edu/HomeVentGuide.pdf

"Take Charge, Not Chances"

A new portfolio (funded by a grant from the Christopher Reeve Foundation) designed to help ventilator users in a medical emergency. It includes: Home Ventilator User's Emergency Preparation Checklist; Caregiver's Emergency Preparation Checklist; Patient's Vital Information for Medical Staff; and Treating Neuromuscular Patients Who Use Mechanical Ventilation: Critical Issues.

International orders accepted with US dollars or Canadian/Mexican equivalent. VISA, MasterCard, Discover and Paypal also accepted on IVUN's secure shopping cart.

PHI's website contains information about the late effects of polio and post-polio syndrome ... including selected articles from past issues of Post-Polio Health, excerpts from the Handbook on the Late Effects of Poliomyelitis for Physicians and Survivors, and an online Post-Polio Directory.

Post-Polio Health ISSN 1066-5331

PHI's 12-page quarterly newsletter includes current information about the late effects of polio and post-polio syndrome, related research, and networking among the post-polio community worldwide.

Available with membership.

Published in February, May, August and November. Edited by Joan L. Headley. Past issues are offered by single issue or complete set (www.post-polio.org/edu/pphnews/date1.html).

Post-Polio Directory

The 40-page Directory lists self-identified clinics, health professionals, and support groups throughout the world who are knowledgeable about the late effects of polio and post-polio syndrome.

Published annually in March. USA $12; Canada, Mexico and Overseas surface $14; Overseas air $16.

Handbook on the Late Effects of Poliomyelitis for Physicians and Survivors ISBN 0-931301-04-1

The 120-page book (©1999) contains 90 entries in dictionary format, the compilation of the research and experience of more than 40 experts. The Handbook describes the late effects of poliomyelitis, its evaluation, and its appropriate management. The Handbook is useful for the survivors of polio, their families, and health care professionals.

Edited by Frederick M. Maynard, MD, and Joan L. Headley, MS.

USA $11.50; Canada, Mexico and Overseas surface $12.50; Special price for Contributor and Sustainer Members $9. Bulk pricing available.

HEALTH PROFESSIONALS committed to and experienced in long-term home mechanical ventilation are listed below. Included are physicians who are specialists in rehabilitation, pulmonology, sleep and/or internal medicine; registered nurses; respiratory therapists; sleep laboratory technicians; and communication and speech pathologists.

Special interests of these health professionals, such as muscular dystrophy, post-polio, ALS, SMA, CCHS, spinal cord injury, etc., are noted in parentheses. Arrangement is alphabetically by country/state, then by province/city, and, finally, by name.

In the USA, the health professionals who work with home care companies supplying durable medical equipment (DME) for respiratory care are listed in a separate section on p. 16. The agencies that provide nurses, respiratory therapists and aides to work in the home are listed in a separate section on p. 18.

VENTILATOR USERS, NETWORKING

Long-term home mechanical ventilation users are an excellent resource for information about day-to-day living with a ventilator, and are willing to offer their experiences and wisdom. Below is a list of places to start to learn more about home mechanical ventilation, the equipment, and to become connected with others.

INTERNATIONAL VENTILATOR USERS NETWORK (IVUN)

www.ventusers.org

Home Ventilator Guide

A comprehensive online resource (pdf format) that displays technical information about the world's home ventilators in charts that are easy to read and make comparing home ventilators more convenient.

www.ventusers.org/edu/HomeVentGuide.pdf

IVUN's Ventilatory Equipment Exchange

People who want to donate ventilatory equipment and aids can advertise their offerings. People who need older equipment can view what is available and make arrangements for the equipment exchange and/or submit their equipment needs. www.ventusers.org/net/ventexch.html

Can You Help? and What Works for Me

In these sections of IVUN's website, ventilator users can ask questions and respond to questions posted at www.ventusers.org/net/help1.html.

The answers are screened for accuracy. What Works for Me, www.ventusers.org/net/what1.html, is a place where people can share their solutions for living with home mechanical ventilation.

Questions, tips, adaptations, etc., can be sent to info@ventusers.org

VENTILATOR EQUIPMENT AND AIDS

The products listed below are for use in long-term home care. The manufacturers generally sell or lease their home care ventilators and related equipment through distributors such as home health care companies. In the USA, a physician's prescription is necessary to obtain the equipment for insurance reimbursement. Many US companies have obtained the CE mark for the sale of their products in Europe. Some European companies have obtained FDA approval to sell their products in the USA. Please check the manufacturer's website to determine availability of products in your area. Contact information for the manufacturers is listed in alphabetical order on pages 23-25.

ORGANIZATIONS, ASSOCIATIONS AND FOUNDATIONS This listing includes many voluntary health organizations which are skilled at information and referral at the local level. They provide a useful link for both health professionals and ventilator users in locating the resources needed to live at home with a ventilator. Many publish newsletters and magazines with occasional articles of interest to ventilator users. They are arranged alphabetically by country, then by organization.
