

HEALTH PROFESSIONALS committed to and experienced in long-term home mechanical ventilation are listed below. Included are physicians who are specialists in rehabilitation, pulmonology, sleep and/or internal medicine; registered nurses; respiratory therapists; sleep laboratory technicians; and communication and speech pathologists.

Special interests of these health professionals, such as muscular dystrophy, post-polio, ALS, SMA, CCHS, spinal cord injury, etc., are noted in parentheses. Arrangement is alphabetically by country/state, then by province/city, and, finally, by name.

In the USA, the health professionals who work with home care companies supplying durable medical equipment (DME) for respiratory care are listed in a separate section on p. 16. The agencies that provide nurses, respiratory therapists and aides to work in the home are listed in a separate section on p. 18.
